

Baseball at the Box Office

"There's no crying in baseball!" "If you build it, he will come." These memorable lines are among many from baseball-themed movies through the years. Catch a few of these popular titles:

"The Pride of the Yankees" (1942) — Gary Cooper stars in this sentimental biopic of Hall of Famer Lou Gehrig.

"The Bad News Bears" (1976) — A former minor league ballplayer coaches a ragtag Little League team of comic misfits.

"The Natural" (1984) — A middle-aged slugger gets a second chance at the big leagues, where he faces secrets from his past.

"Eight Men Out" (1988) — This is the dramatic account of the infamous Black Sox scandal, in which eight Chicago White Sox players accepted bribes to purposely lose the 1919 World Series.

"Field of Dreams" (1989) — Part fairy tale, part drama, this story about second chances strikes a chord with fathers and sons.

"A League of Their Own" (1992) — This film is a fictional portrayal of the real-life All American Girls Professional Baseball League, formed during World War II.

"Moneyball" (2011) — A revolutionary method of scouting players based solely on statistics brings success to the struggling Oakland Athletics.

"42" (2013) — Jackie Robinson's courageous rookie season of Major League Baseball is dramatized in this inspirational film.

Happy Birthday, America, the Fourth of July Is Upon Us!

Though fireworks, picnics and parades are all a part of the festivities, Americans gather to celebrate freedom. For your patriotic pleasure, here's a compilation of inspiring quotes for Independence Day:

"Freedom is never dear at any price. It is the breath of life. What would a man not pay for living?" — Gandhi

"Liberty, taking the word in its concrete sense, consists in the ability to choose."
— Simone Weil

"The secret of happiness is freedom, the secret of freedom is courage." — Carr Jones

"Our greatest happiness does not depend on the condition of life in which chance has placed us, but is always the result of good conscience, good health, occupation and freedom in all just pursuits." — Thomas Jefferson

"Life without liberty is like a body without spirit." — Kahlil Gibran

"Freedom lies in being bold." — Robert Frost

"Freedom is the oxygen of the soul."
— Moshe Dayan

Here is my personal favorite:

"The nation will remain the land of the free only so long as it is the home of the brave."
— Elmer Davis

Declaration Details

As freedom rings this Fourth of July, explore these facts about the Declaration of Independence.

Initial autograph: John Hancock, president of the Continental Congress, was the first to sign the document. His signature is the largest, and the term “John Hancock” remains a common expression for a signature.

Striking script: Historians say Timothy Matlack, clerk to the secretary of the Congress, is most likely the scribe who wrote out the famous script using a quill pen and ink.

Dirty details: The bottom left corner of the document is marred by a handprint whose story and identification are unknown. It, along with other soiling, has been left alone rather than risk damage by attempting to clean it.

Safe storage: During World War II, the declaration was moved from the Library of Congress and stored at Fort Knox. In 1952, it was transferred to its permanent home, the National Archives in Washington, D.C., where it is housed in a state-of-the-art case, designed to protect the antique parchment.

Colonial copies: Paper copies of the declaration were printed on the night of July 4 to be distributed throughout the Colonies. Only 26 of these versions exist today, and most are held in museums.
